

12th Annual Youth Summer Program:

Anne of Green Gables (family theater, all audiences)

by Joseph Robinette, directed by Cheryl Blauer

(Presented with Permission by Dramatic Publishing)

This new dramatization captures the charm of L.M. Montgomery's enduring classic about an orphan girl, Anne Shirley, from her first encounter with her austere guardian to her thrilling graduation from Queen's Academy. Please note, this is not a musical.

Rumors (farce, adult audiences - mild language)

by Neil Simon, directed by Frank White

(Presented with Permission by Samuel French)

The Deputy Mayor of New York has just shot himself. Though it's only a flesh wound, four couples are about to experience a severe attack of Farce. "Light, frothy and fun." - New York Post

The Butler Did It (comedy/thriller, all audiences)

by Walter Marks and Peter Marks, directed by Randall Lord

(Presented with Permission by Dramatists Play Service)

Writer and Director, Anthony J. Lefcourt, is rehearsing his new play, a classic whodunit (in which all of the characters are named Butler). Desperately eager to stimulate his cast, he "stages" the murder of one of the actresses. "...ample opportunity here for laughs and double-whammy thrills." - NY Times.

Miracle on 34th Street (family theater, all audiences)

Adapted by Will Severin, Patricia Di Benedetto Snyder and John Vreeke, directed by Cheryl Blauer

(Presented with Permission by Samuel French)

Kris Kringle is the personification of good will and holiday spirit. As Macy's Santa, he enchants children and shoppers so completely that he is deemed dangerous by fellow employees who question his competency and plot to ruin him. This hilarious, tender and charming show for the entire family is a Christmas classic.

Out of Order (farce, adult audiences)

by Ray Cooney, directed by Kevin Kimsey

(Presented with Permission by Samuel French)

When Richard Willey, a government junior minister, plans to spend the evening with Jane Worthington, one of the opposition's typists, things go disastrously wrong. "A textbook model of pyramiding lunacy." - Variety.

An Evening of One Acts (1 drama, 2 comedies, all audiences)

A Candle on the Table by Patricia Clapp, Lost by Mary Louise Wilson,

The Traveling Sisters by John Kirkpatrick, directed by Wendy Koepl

(Presented with Permission from Baker's Plays, Dramatists Play Service, and Samuel French)

A Candle on the Table: Three elderly women meet at lunch on their first day in a home for senior citizens. A candle placed there by the matron awakens different memories in each. The conversation culminates in a friendship and an affirmative decision.

Lost: Two elder and absent minded friends find clarity in a compromising situation.

The Traveling Sisters: At the travel bureau the two old ladies were considered a bit eccentric; twice a year they planned a summer vacation and winter cruise that they could not afford. Suddenly their knowledge of foreign countries pays off.

Rabbit Hole (drama, adult audiences)

by David Lindsay-Abaire, directed by Mike Mullens

(Presented with Permission by Dramatists Play Service)

Becca and Howie Corbett have everything a family could want, until a life-shattering accident turns their world upside down and leaves the couple drifting perilously apart. Winner of the 2007 Pulitzer Prize.

The Pink Panther Strikes Again (comedy, all audiences)

by William Gleason, directed by Brad Ooley

(Presented with Permission by Dramatic Publishing)

The world's most unusual criminologist, Chief Inspector Jacques Clouseau, fights for his life and for the future of all mankind in the most bizarre and dangerous caper of his brilliantly successful and utterly clumsy career. Comedy fun for the whole family!
